Re: Updated guidance for tourism businesses and travelers for the implementation of EO 2020-029 and EO-2020-030

Dear Industry Stakeholders,

As of March 30, 2020, Hon. Wanda Vázquez-Garced, Governor of Puerto Rico, signed into effect Executive Order 2020-029, which seeks to contain and manage the impact of COVID-19 in Puerto Rico.

The Executive Order can be found in the Puerto Rico Department of State's website (www.estado.pr.gov).

What follows is a guide on the applicability of the Executive Order on specific tourism operations.

Airports: Remain open for inbound and outbound travel. Adjustments in travel itineraries are at the discretion of each airline, in accordance with travel restrictions, as determined by the Government of the United States. Usual operations at the airport are not affected by the curfew. Passengers arriving or departing from the airports after curfew will be able to transit to and from their respective destinations. Retail operations inside the airport will be subject to the same regulations as those in the rest of the island, allowing for only essential businesses to remain open. Restaurants and food service establishments are authorized to remain open.

Passengers: As stated in EO 2020-030, Section 1 and 2 (ii), any arriving passengers with or without residence in Puerto Rico, must immediately enter a quarantine state, for fourteen (14) days or the rest of their stay (whichever is shorter), starting on the date of arrival.

Industry workforce: The Executive Order provides for employees that must transit, from their places of residence to their place of employment, after curfew to be able to do so, regardless of their car license plate as established in EO 2020-029, Section 2. Employers must provide a certification to staff which may be presented to law enforcement personnel, should need be. These employees will abide by the dispositions of Section 4 of the Executive Order 2020-029.

Cruise operations: The San Juan Bay is currently closed for cruise ship vessels.
